

The Hobart Human Library is a 1.5 - 2 hour workshop delivered in person. For workplaces, virtual delivery options via Zoom are also available.

Workshops delivered in person are run like a 'speed dating' forum, with groups of 4 to 6 people 'reading' a human 'book' for 10 to 20 minutes then moving on to another 'book'. Introduction and debrief sessions discuss the links between empathy, stereotyping and discrimination. We also offer an Inclusion Forum, a shorter workshop ideal for larger groups or those looking for a 'taster' of the full Hobart Human Library experience.

These costs are for workshops with 6 'books' for 25 adults or 30 students. Other group sizes and durations can be negotiated. Discounts are available for multiple workshops.

HOBART HUMAN LIBRARY

Don't judge a book by its cover!

The Hobart Human Library uses the art of storytelling to break down barriers and build empathy. It provides a comfortable space for 'readers' to speak informally with a human 'book'.

The 'books' are Tasmanians who have experienced stereotyping, prejudice or discrimination - perhaps because of their culture, gender, sexual orientation, disability, appearance or mental health status. In sharing their personal experiences, human 'books' hope to educate others about the impact of being excluded and start conversations about how we can all contribute to positive change.

For workplaces, the Hobart Human Library is an excellent addition to diversity and inclusion training.

Each 'book' is distinctively interesting and I have learnt so much more than reading articles. Government House professional development workshop participant

For schools, the Hobart Human Library workshop has been developed to support the Respectful Schools and Workplaces Framework.

That it's an extremely informative, incredible program. It gives you some really amazing insight in diverse peoples' lives. Year 8 student, Kingston High School

The Hobart Human Library can also be booked for public or private events, including conferences.
