

An Inclusion Forum can be from 1-2 hours and is delivered either in person or virtually using Zoom. Each forum is presented by 2-4 human 'books' and a facilitator.

An Inclusion Forum can cover one or more themes, for example gender, sexuality, disability, culture or mental health.

For workplaces, the Inclusion Forum is a perfect 'lunchbox' session. Staff can explore learning about diversity and ways of being more actively inclusive in a relaxed setting.

For schools the Inclusion Forum includes a Lesson Plan with curriculum links and follow-up activities.

INCLUSION FORUM

You can ask that!

An Inclusion Forum is an alternative to the full Hobart Human Library workshop. It is ideal as a starting point or refresher, for schools or workplaces, or for larger audiences, such as at conferences.

Like the Hobart Human Library an Inclusion Forum uses the art of storytelling to break down barriers and build empathy. It provides an opportunity for audiences to hear the personal experience of prejudice from 2-4 human 'books' and ask questions in a Q & A that we call, "You can ask that!"

All 'books' are Tasmanians who have experienced stereotyping, prejudice or discrimination - perhaps because of their culture, gender, sexual orientation, disability, appearance or mental health status. In sharing their personal experiences, human 'books' hope to educate others about the impact of being excluded and start conversations about how we can all contribute to positive change.

I have learnt so much from the session, it has been so great to hear the stories and have a deeper understanding of the challenges people have had in their lives.

I think the forum was very educational and makes us realise just how the smallest actions could have such an influence on someone (good or bad).
